Flowers Worth While

Are the Flowers that Smile in the Garden
of JOHN H. NEELEY, Paulding, Ohio

(1922-3)

"IDEAL"

Ever there floats before the Real
The bright and beautiful Ideal;
And as to guide the Sculptor's Hand
The living Forms of Beauty stand,
Till from the rough-hewn Marble starts
A Thing of Grace in all its Parts.

So ever stand before the Soul
A Model beautiful and whole,
The perfect Man that we should be
Erect in stern Integrity.
Keep this, O Soul, before thy Sight,
And form the inward Man aright.

THE SECRET

Oh, Beauty isn't just the rose
That lifts its face to greet the sky;
It's something deeper than the rose,
But only he who made it knows
What Beauty is, and why.

And Beauty isn't in your breast,
Your clasping hands, your eyes,
your brow;
It's something hidden in your breast
Where Love has laid him down to rest,
But only Love knows how.

Love isn't just the things we see,
Know, hear and handle, you and I:
It's something deeper than we see,
That God has sown in you and me,
But only God knows why.
—Lucy Malleeson.

THE SILENT LIFE

We lead two lives—the outward seeming fair,
 And full of smiles that on the surface lie;
 The other spent in many a silent prayer,
 With thoughts and feeling hidden from the eye
 The weary, weary hours of mental pain,
 Unspoken yearnings for the dear ones gone,
 The wishes half-defined yet crushed again.
 Make up the silent life we lead alone.
 This silent life—we little reck its power
 To strengthen us for either good or ill.
 Whether we train our thoughts like birds to soar,
 Or let them wander wheresoe'er they will.
 This silent life not those we love may share.
 Though day by day we strive to draw them
 close:
 Our secret chamber—none may enter there.
 Save that one eye that never seeks repose.
 And if beneath that eye we do not quail,
 Though all the world may turn from us aside,
 We own a secret power that shall prevail
 When every motive of our life is tried.

—Somerville Journal.

“Flowers are thoughts of the Spirit of God,
Their love is the love of His Grace,
Their fragrance is breath of Divinity,
Their beauty the Light of His Face.

ROSES

Red as the wine of forgotten ages,
Yellow as gold of the sunbeams spun;
Pink as the gowns of Aurora's pages,
White as the robes of the sinless one,
Sweeter than Araby's winds that blow,
Roses, roses, I love you so!

Crowning the altar where vows are spoken,
Cradling the form that is still and cold,
Symbol of joy--of love's last token,
Telling the story that never grows old.
Cluster of beauty whom none can debar,
Know ye, I wonder, how fair ye are?

Blooming for monarch in palaces royal,
Queenliest charmers in all the place,
Blooming for yeoman, tender and loyal,
Stooping to kiss his toil-stained face,
Roses, roses, born but to bless,
Yield me your secret of loveliness!

—J. C. R. Dorr.
